

As Government hype about economic recovery continues:

BRITAIN'S FAILING ECONOMY

THE GOVERNMENT'S claims of economic recovery were once again exposed as a sham when Nestle Rowntree announced the closure of its factory in Norwich - with a loss of 900 jobs.

Behind the constant hype about a 'golden scenario', engineered by the Tory Government's economic policies, lies the reality of a continuing dismantling of the country's industrial base. Norwich is the latest victim of 'free trade' policies which were supposed to usher in a new era of prosperity and employment.

Norfolk is experiencing what so many other cities have suffered since the election of Mrs. Thatcher in 1979 - the collapse of its employment base. As well as the closure of Nestles' chocolate factory Norwich Union has announced the loss of 1100 local jobs in its insurance business over the next five years. Other major employers are also shutting down.

Norfolk's Euro-MP, Clive Needle, has said that "Norwich is going to be like a ghost town within the next two years unless something drastic is done to create new jobs". The Norwich MP John Garrett said that he would be appealing to Nestles to reconsider - an appeal which will, of course, achieve at best a temporary stay of execution.

Faces of Nestle's workers tell their own story after announcement of factory closure in Norwich. Many of the people who will lose their jobs will never work again - particularly those over 50 who virtually no new employer will consider.

The Nestles Rowntree factory manufactured Rolos and Yorkie bars among other products, and had been in the city since 1886 when Caley & Co. - soon to become John Mackintosh - set up its headquarters there.

Norwich is now feeling the effects of nationwide economic changes which it escaped during the 1980s. Multi-national companies are now steadily moving their operations abroad.

TIDAL WAVE

As well as Norwich Union and Nestles, Colman's, well known for its mustard, has put up for sale its Norfolk factory which ten years ago used to employ 2000 staff. Norwich has seen its shoe industry disappear under a tidal wave of imports.

Norfolk has so far escaped the effects of mass immigration which have led to social breakdown across much of the rest of the country. The area will now follow the pattern experienced by so many other regions. The only new employment which will be created will be a few low paid service industry jobs. Immigrant labour will flood in, and the existing workforce will find itself faced with permanent mass unemployment. Crime will rocket.

GRAVEYARD

Euro MP Mr. Needle has called for Norwich to be promoted as a regional centre. He said that the city would become an 'employment graveyard' without suitable action.

Mr. Needle will no doubt not be mentioning that it is the policy of both the EC and the Government to bring about precisely the situation which Norwich faces. The whole British and European political system is united behind the interests of international companies and their 'strategic investment decisions' - code for disposing of the British workforce.

SLUMP

The Managing Director of Nestles David Harris acknowledged that the local economy was in a slump. He said that production would be transferred to other factories in Britain. "This is a decision about competitiveness" he said.

A similar claim has been made by endless other companies throughout the country in recent years as jobs disappeared. Once public opinion has been quieted, the normal procedure is then to announce the entire closure of UK operations.

Managing Director of Nestles David Harris. 'Very much regretted sad and difficult decision. This is a decision about competitiveness' he said.

TRANSPORT

The collapse of Norfolk's industry is being partly blamed on poor transport links which increase costs to employers.

UK politicians constantly dangle such misleading arguments before the public to persuade Britain that the country can deal with its economic problems within a framework of international free markets.

The reality is that no amount of new roads or other incentives can possibly compensate for the fact that labour in countries like China and Korea, where massive investment is taking place, costs only a fraction of that in Britain.

Firstly manufacturing jobs are displaced abroad, and then the service industry jobs will follow - as is happening in the United States.

Those employers left will increasingly demand more cheap immigrant labour in a vain attempt to compete with imports. Britain is locked into a vicious circle which it cannot escape in a world of open markets.

● Lord Tebbit has revealed that the EC intends to bring down Britain's efficient steel industry.

The EC ensures that other European steel industries receive massive subsidies - contrary to its own policy.

The plan is to take advantage of the UK's weak government by bankrupting British Steel with fines for price fixing.

ELECTION RESULT

BNP CONTINUES TO ESTABLISH ITSELF IN EAST LONDON

THE BNP's candidate Derek Beackon won nearly 20% of the vote in the Lansbury by-election in Tower Hamlets on December 15 - continuing the process of establishing itself as a major party in the area.

The BNP campaigned intensively in the ward with canvassing teams out most days and repeated leaflet drops.

The election was very strongly fought by both the Liberals and Labour. The Conservatives received a magnificent 24 votes!

Labour was supported by the usual rag bag of left-wing extremists, who carried out extensive illegal and criminal activities designed to interfere with the poll - including scores of acts of vandalism.

Many local residents complained to the BNP about these activities. One couple said that they had been told on their doorstep that the police should be abolished. They had immediately decided to vote BNP!

It became clear during the campaign that the BNP are now regarded by local voters as a normal part of East End politics - but that many wish to familiarise themselves with the party for a longer period before committing their vote. The BNP had not stood in the area since 1987 when it won 2%.

Former Councillor Derek Beackon - big vote in East London

Result:
BNP 544 votes 19.4%
Labour 1457 votes 50.4%
Liberal Democrat 844 votes 29.2%
Conservative 24 votes 0.001 %

● The BNP is to fight two new London council by-elections during the next few weeks - David King will stand in Weaver's Ward, Tower Hamlets, and Peter Hart in Newham's South Ward.

No.151 JANUARY 1995

Editor: John Morse

DRUGS, RACE, AND STOP SEARCH

The Advisory Council on the Misuse of Drugs has called on the police to publish figures on the ethnic make up of those stopped in the street on suspicion of possessing drugs.

'Anti-racist' groups have, of course, claimed for years that police were biased in their treatment of non-whites. It is said that blacks are stopped more often than whites - and that this 'proves' police injustice.

British Nationalist is restricted by the Public Order Act in commenting frankly on these matters. What we can safely do is to repeat some of the conclusions of a study in 1993, by Oxford University, into the widely differing rates of imprisonment among different ethnic groups in Britain. The study can hardly be faulted - since it was paid for by the Commission for Racial Equality!

The report said that Afro-Caribbean men make up more than 10% of males in prison - nine times their proportion in the whole population. Black females make up nearly a quarter of those in prison.

The study concluded that 93% of the astonishingly differing rates of imprisonment between whites and blacks could be explained by the nature and frequency of offences - and to a tendency to attract longer sentences by making futile not guilty pleas. Only 7% of the difference was unexplained, and might therefore be due to biased treatment, or some other unknown cause.

Unsurprisingly, the CRE did not exactly broadcast its own report from the rooftops! The only newspaper to cover the report's publication, and its conclusions, was The Times.

We merely report the above - without drawing any conclusions. Our readers may, of course, have their own opinions.

What may be said is that city areas are being made increasingly uninhabitable by crime, and rightly attract police activity, including stop and search. We report in this issue, by way of an example, on the street rape of a young woman by a black man in Richmond - one of London's most respectable areas.

The public demand and are entitled to vigorous policing. They should not be denied it by the noisefull agendas of left wing pressure groups.

ROTTEN TO THE CORE!

KGB Agent At Guardian Is Only The Tip Of An Iceberg In Britain's Sick Media:

THE UNMASKING as a KGB agent of a senior Guardian editor reveals only the tip of an iceberg of massive betrayal of Britain by its media. Richard Gott, a journalist at the left-wing Guardian for 30 years, was recently exposed by USSR defector Oleg Gordievsky.

Mr. Gordievsky, a KGB Colonel, who headed its British operation during the early 1980s, defected in 1985. He has revealed that Gott, who first contacted the KGB in 1964, was recruited during the 1970s, as a so-called 'agent of influence'.

Gott was highly valued by the Russians for his assessments of what was happening in the UK, and was regarded as a 'star informant'. "The KGB loved the Guardian. It was deemed highly susceptible to penetration" says Gordievsky in a masterful understatement. Gott was paid at "a most conservative estimate" £10,000 for his services.

Gott earned his money with, among his many other services, sympathetic articles on the murderous regime of Pol Pot in Cambodia, and on the former Communist regime in East Germany. His betrayal of Britain ended when he was forced to resign in December.

Subversion by spreading disinformation in the media, on behalf of an enemy, is not illegal in Britain in peacetime. Gott will therefore escape scot free any penalty for his treachery.

'THE KGB LOVED THE GUARDIAN - IT WAS DEEMED TO BE HIGHLY SUSCEPTIBLE TO PENETRATION'

SUBVERT

During the 1930s, the Russians began a massive, prolonged, and highly successful campaign to subvert the media in Britain.

The traitor Guy Burgess spent several years working as a producer for the BBC - commissioning talks by other Soviet agents. Another traitor, Peter Smollett, wrote a glowing series of articles on life in Russia for The Times in 1936.

MI5

MI5 was well aware of Gott's activities for many years, but naturally did nothing. Sources say that the intelligence services 'did not wish to seem engaged in a witch hunt'.

When British patriots wish to campaign, quite lawfully, for a future for the British people - as does the BNP - it is a different story! The state is then perfectly prepared to put Nationalists in prison on false evidence and trumped up charges.

As far as the state and media are concerned it is perfectly acceptable to work for the destruction of Britain.

RIDDLED

Parliament now seeks to swindle public opinion with a new Intelligence and Security Committee, which it is claimed will oversee the security services.

Who will be on the committee? Among others the left-wing Labour MP Allan Rogers. Mr. Rogers has applauded the activities of a Soviet propaganda organisation called the 'World Peace Council', and those of a similar North Korean front.

Our whole system is riddled with people who intend this country to cease to exist - from the most junior journalist to the most senior politicians, who are engineering our disappearance into a European superstate.

Soviet defector Oleg Gordievsky - exposed Gott as traitor

CLIQUE

Our politicians long ago gave up any real attempt to inform the public about our affairs. Opinions are mostly formed from what people hear in the media. Those who control the newspapers and television in Britain are well aware of this. Without their constant misinformation and propaganda the three party clique, which is destroying Britain, would have been swept away years ago.

Our media are rotten to the core with people, who, if they do not work directly for any foreign power like Gott, share his objectives. Gott himself laughed off his exposure - describing his activities as 'an enjoyable joke', and himself as a 'mellow traveller'.

The constant media harping on 'racist attacks' on blacks, while far more numerous attacks on whites are virtually ignored, is one example of how they work to undermine white people.

MORE TRAITORS

Oleg Gordievsky is expected shortly to reveal the names of 20 or more other KGB agents operating during the 1980s - including Labour MPs. All will no doubt escape any penalty, despite a life of systematic efforts to subvert the country. It is now regarded as acceptable behaviour to wish to destroy Britain.

Guardian journalist Richard Gott - considered a 'star informant' by the KGB.

He was known as 'Gott the Trot' and 'Pol Gott' by other journalists. Not one, of course, would expose his 20 year career of treachery until very recently.

Gott is merely the tip of an iceberg of massive concerted manipulation of the British media by the enemies of our country.

'BBC NARCOTISES VIEWERS' - SAYS TOP TV WRITER

ONE of the BBC's top writers is accusing the controller of BBC 1 of 'attempting to narcotise the viewing population' with formula TV shows. Andrew Davies, who wrote the imaginative 'A Very Peculiar Practice', says that the boss of BBC 1 TV, Alan Yentob, is reducing his audience to a stupor. 'There is intelligent life out there' says Mr. Davies.

Mr. Davies says that good programmes cannot be rolled off like lengths of carpet. Mr. Yentob is 'not the first person you'd pick to choose drama for the nation' he says.

If Mr. Davies knows the real truth he is not likely to jeopardise his career by saying so. The whole purpose of TV is precisely to narcotise the population. Intelligent life must be reduced to a stupor by a diet of anti-British anti-white propaganda. TV has developed a well thought out formula for programmes precisely to that end.

● The BBC has defended its decision to screen homosexual propaganda on the popular children's show Byker Grove. Parents bombarded the BBC with complaints after one boy was shown kissing another in a cinema. The show is watched by kids of 6-16. A BNP Government will sack Mr. Yentob and his like, and put in place staff who will put on decent programmes which British people want to watch.

BBC 1 boss Alan Yentob - 'not the first person you would pick to choose TV drama for the nation'

'Santa Claus must die' - says TV

CHANNEL 4 'experts' have called for Father Christmas to die. The jovial chap, who spends his time climbing down chimneys, is seriously damaging children's lives they say. Who are this array of 'experts'?

In the front rank whey-faced Marcelle d'Argy Smith, editor of Cosmopolitan magazine - a byword for triviality and support for every liberal cause from homosexuality to multiracialism. Also front rank journalist Suzanne Moore from - where else - The Guardian! With a credential like that! Following in the field a motley collection of bin-end social workers, and daft 'psychiatrists'.

The whole dismal crew could be seen on Channel 4 on December 13 telling us that children should not be faced with the ordeal of discovering that Santa does not exist as they grow older. Notice that date? Just in time for politically correct parents to cancel the kids annual visit. How do they know anyway? BN can assure all our readers that Santa Claus is alive and well. His life is now difficult enough with blocked off chimneys not to need Channel 4's dismal crew after his head.

Whey faced Marcelle d'Argy Smith: editor of Cosmopolitan

Marcelle tells parents that the discovery of SC's non-existence is 'a revelation that can leave a permanent scar'. So can listening to bogus 'experts' like the editors of liberal magazines. She is a bitter angry woman, forced to face every Xmas knowing that her chimney will remain inviolate.

Will the same team now start attacking Muslim or Jewish traditions as damaging to children? Will Channel 4 lay out the red carpet for the occasion?

BN can assure its readers that this will not be happening!

BLACKS IN BRITAIN HIT BACK AT RACE AND IQ CLAIMS

BLACKS living in Britain have hit out at claims that there are differences in intelligence between the races.

The controversy began with the publication in the United States of 'The Bell Curve' by Charles Murray, which broke through a taboo concerning discussion of the subject which has lasted decades.

The UK black newspaper The Voice has struck out at the claims, which they say are misleading. Black writer Cameron Duodu says in the newspaper that testing ability by IQ makes no sense, and that any case Murray is wrong.

Mr. Duodu says that IQ tests were devised to measure ability at the type of tasks needed in Western society. In Africa, for instance, very different aptitudes are needed. Blacks should be measured against abilities relevant to their culture. "A child growing up in an area of high unemployment can hardly be expected to accord academic skills the same importance as those which win him 'street cred'" says Mr. Duodu.

How then should black abilities be measured? Mr. Duodu suggests some culturally relevant tests, from his experience of growing up in Africa. "If intelligence means anything at all" Mr. Duodu says "certainly it denotes the ability to utilise products provided by nature to survive hunger, disaster, and war". The author of the Bell Curve would be lost among the geniuses of Africa says Cameron Duodu.

Mr. Duodu lists some specific tests which are fair to black people: shooting birds with self made catapults, making 'lorries' from wood to transport water, skill at marbles, and ability to swim flooded rivers to reach farms.

Most prized of all is the ability to play the 'talking drums', which can tell the history of whole peoples.

In the past a single mistake by the drummer would mean certain execution, since alteration to the drum beat could mean that one's history could be stolen!

BN must admit the truth. Few if any of our readers could excel at Mr. Duodu's tests.

HOW BLACKS IN THE UK SAY THEIR ABILITIES SHOULD BE MEASURED

- Playing the 'talking drums'
- Skill with home made catapults
- Making 'lorries' to carry water
- Playing marbles
- Swimming flooded rivers

For Whom the Bell tolls

The authors of IQ race book The Bell Curve would be lost among the geniuses of Africa, writes Cameron Duodu

In The Guardian on November 22 Edward Pilkington reported that, despite its title, many of the quotations used by Charles Murray and Richard Herrnstein in their book, The Bell Curve: Intelligence and Class Structure in American Life, are in fact taken from a racist magazine published in Britain! Unfortunately, some Black media practitioners here find it difficult to confront the issue, the reason being that if one decides to debunk the racist message, one risks giving more publicity to it. One's arguments could be also dismissed with an emotive, 'He is Black, so what do you expect him to say?'

Nevertheless, the issue is on Black journalists to overcome such uneasiness and state the truth. The bombardment unleashed on our collective psyche by the all-pervading White media is relentless and we must never take it for granted that every Black person is as equipped as we are to be resistant to attempts to undermine our self-confidence.

Even if Murray/Herrnstein's fallacious contention that IQ tests indicate that genetically Blacks are 'less intelligent' than Whites was not influenced by racist propaganda, there is no way it could make sense. IQ tests were evolved by people from a particular culture who were looking at the quality of performance at particular tasks that were important to that culture. To assume that what should be given high marks in a particular cultural milieu is necessarily common to all other cultures is stupid. Some Chinese people think you're inept if you can't use chopsticks. So what?

A child growing up in an area of high unemployment among well-educated elders who return day after day empty-handed from job hunting can hardly be expected to accord academic skills the same importance as those that enable him to win 'street cred' and thereby survive.

In Africa, the relevance of some of the skills exemplified in IQ tests is even more pronounced. There, the importance of technical skills ensuring group survival are of prime importance. When I was growing up in

It's only natural

FLASHBACK: How the Voice reported the book's findings.

Ghana, the civilised kids were those who were adept at shooting birds with catapults, they had crafted themselves; those who could construct 'lorries' out of wood to enable them to carry water faster from the streams to their homes; those who excelled in playing marbles; good swimmers who could cross rivers to get to the farms, even when the rivers were in flood.

But the real champions were those who knew how to make the drums 'talk'. The Akan people of Ghana, together with the Yoruba of Nigeria have been able to construct drums which can imitate their language. The Akan 'talking drums' are made up of a 'male' (bass) and 'female' (treble) drum which, when played together, can give a good imitation of some of the 'tones' which make up the words of the 'tonal' language which Akan is.

Whole proverbs can thus be played on the drums and those who have trained ears can decipher every single word that is played (ignorant ones suppose the drums are only rendering a 'rhythm'). My own favourite runs like this: Akan neye beye/Chawee neye asoo/Opinin ne hwan? (The path crosses the river/The river crosses the path/Which is the elder?)

Even more ingenious than the proverb is the way the drum language is used to encode the whole history of the Akan Kingdoms. Whenever an Akan chief performs a ceremony such as a durbar or a royal funeral, his drummers take him right back to the first of his ancestors and work their way through his family tree right to himself. The 'great deeds' each king performed while alive is encoded into 'anonymus' that are played alongside his name.

Some of these constitute the most poetic renditions of Akan. Onomatopoeia, hyperbole and apostrophe are two a penny in the verses. For instance, the drums tell of one king who could take his ring off, through the shoulder end of his arm!

These 'praises' are drummed to inspire the present king to remember that he was not 'enclosed' as a king for nothing, but that because he comes from a long lineage of great potentates and his people expect great things of him as well. The drummers are trained to get the history exactly right: in the past, if a drummer made a mistake he would almost certainly lose his head.

This was because if anyone could 'steal' your history, by changing elements of it to suit his own purpose, then he could usurp your lineage and rule over you. The drum language is added by horns in the task of preserving Akan history. The horns also imitate language and, like the drums, are great for encoding signalling during war.

Knowledge of horn language assisted the Maroons in Jamaica during their victorious battles with the White planters, and, to this day, the Akan word for horn, abeng, can be understood by some people in Jamaica and Surinam (another place in the Caribbean where Akan culture has survived among many rural folk).

'Intelligence' means anything at all, certainly it denotes the ability of the Akan people — among countless others in Africa and elsewhere — to survive in their own environment for purposes that enabled them to survive hunger, disaster and war? Anyone who suggests otherwise cannot be simply a racist, he is just a fool.

Black writer Cameron Duodu argues for the use of proper tests to measure black abilities in 'The Voice'. Those who claim that the races have different IQs, would be lost among African geniuses he says.

AFRICAN ATROCITY DRUG Mukta Ahmed THREATENS EAST LONDON attacker was part Bengali

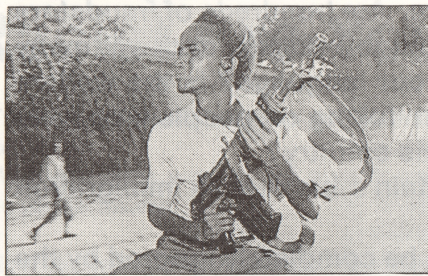

A DRUG blamed for many of the atrocities during the Somali Civil War is spreading through East London.

The drug khat, which is chewed, is used by 99% of the men among the 16,000 Somalis in Tower Hamlets and Newham.

Although khat is a Class A illegal substance in the US, classed with heroin and cocaine, it is perfectly legal in Britain.

An astonishing 7 tonnes of the drug arrive at Heathrow every month, for distribution in East London.

Hussein Farrah of the Somali Action Forum said that the drug is used by boys as young as of 15, who chew day and night. "Somali men don't know what is going on" he said "Ninety-nine per cent of Somali men are on income support, and they spend all that money on khat instead of food".

Khat: legal in Britain but blamed for atrocities in Somalia

The drug causes psychosis, and is blamed for atrocities in Africa. Dr. Charles Hindler, of Barnet General Hospital, says that studies show that the drug provokes violence and mental illness.

THE ATTACK on 18 year old Mukta Ahmed, in Bethnal Green, won massive publicity last year. Anti-racist groups proclaimed it a classic example of a 'racist attack' by whites.

When one of the attackers was convicted recently, it was revealed that he was part Bengali!

Nicky Fuller, 17, was convicted of the attack, and sentenced to a young offenders institution.

Mr. Ahmed received terrible head injuries in the attack, which is yet another example of the scandal of Britain's lawless streets.

Like so many attacks which are proclaimed to be due to white 'racism', the truth has turned out to be a little different.

In East London in 1993 a massive press campaign claimed that the BNP were responsible for a series of attacks on Asian restaurants in the Brick Lane area.

Some months later it was revealed, by a local Asian restaurant owner, that the attacks were, in fact, carried out by Bengali protection gangs!

The same sort of deception is common, and applies to other celebrated cases of 'race attack'.

There are, of course, genuine cases of race attack, which the BNP has repeatedly condemned. The genuine cases involve assaults on both whites and blacks - with minimal publicity when whites are the victims.

When Paul Chimes had his hand nearly severed by a gang of machete wielding Asians in East London the national media ignored the story.

Conservative attacked in home with iron bar

MARK COTTERILL, a former member of a small nationalist group, was viciously assaulted in his Torquay home by two men during November.

Mr. Cotterill attracted national publicity recently when he joined the Conservative Party.

The two attackers, armed with a knife and an iron bar, forced their way into his home early in the evening. Despite being very severely injured, with knife wounds and two broken cheek bones, heroic Mark fought back.

The police arrested two men shortly after the attack. One was said to have been found crawling along a nearby street covered with blood.

The two arrested men, Richard Heyes from Paignton, and Richard Hansbury from Exeter, have been charged with unlawful wounding. Torquay Magistrates granted bail to the two men, and ordered that their full addresses should not be published, because of the 'political overtones'.

The attack was the third to take place last year against anti-communists in their homes. The BNP's National Press Officer, Michael Newland, was assaulted in April, and libertarian Alexander Baron was attacked earlier in 1994.

BNP candidate Michael Davidson also lost the use of one eye after a street attack last year, and a parcel bomb exploded at the BNP shop injuring a member of the staff.

The attack on Mr. Cotterill once again emphasises the need for constant vigilance by those opposed to the left. Communist groups are becoming increasingly vicious as their cause fails.

BN warns well known members and supporters not to open their doors to strangers about whose identity there is the slightest doubt. Parcels containing video cassettes or cardboard tubes are especially favoured by Communist terrorists when sending bombs through the post.

A special watch should be kept for assailants using the techniques employed by security firms - some of which are employed by the state for operations for which responsibility can be denied later.

Common ploys used are to hold clipboards and to wear construction workers' helmets - in order to pose as council building workers - and to wear respectable looking blue blazers. In the case of the attack on Michael Newland two of the assailants wore surgical gloves to avoid leaving fingerprints.

ACCUSED: Richard Hansbury

ACCUSED: Richard Heyes (centre) seen on an Anti-Nazi League demonstration in Torquay during 1993

Security firms sometimes employ former members of the security forces, who are well trained in this sort of operation.

Attacks are comparatively rare and usually reserved for leading members of patriotic groups.

Most BNP members and supporters should not therefore allow themselves to be unduly alarmed - while taking the care which everyone in Britain must now maintain as law and order collapses.

Dear Man,

First let me tell you about myself.

I came to this country in July 1992 on a tourist Visa. I have today been granted FULL political asylum.

I have found a way to beat the system. I will give this advice freely to 100s of Indians abroad. The NATIONAL INDIAN PARTY N.I.P., will rule this small island. There is no place in this country for you.

I am writing to you so to give you a chance to close down instead of facing defeat.

Gollywog horror in UK toy departments

RACE relations groups are demanding that gollywogs should be removed from the shelves of toy shops.

Harrods, and other leading stores, have been told that gollies are 'racist', and a disgrace to toy departments.

Jenners in Edinburgh, which attracted the 'race equality' fanatics, has stocked gollies for 156 years. They say that the publicity has helped sell every gollywog in the store, and they are ordering more!

Harrods has refused to stop selling the toy.

A childminder in extreme-left Greenwich was threatened with the loss of her Council licence and livelihood recently. Enid Blyton's Gilbert Golly was ousted from his job by the BBC.

Robertson's, the jam makers, have refused to remove the golly from their jam, despite the attentions of Communist groups. An attempt to remove a gollywog from a fancy dress parade also failed.

BRITAIN'S LAWLESS STREETS

WOMAN RAPED BY BLACK ON RICHMOND GREEN

THE RAPE of a 25 year old woman has sent shock waves through what was once one of London's safest areas.

The woman, a New Zealander who had been in Britain for only two weeks, was dragged into bushes by a muscular black man as she walked across Richmond Green - lined with some of the capital's most desirable houses. Multi-millionaire Rolling Stone guitarist Ronnie Wood lives nearby.

The New Zealander was raped in an attack lasting several minutes as crowds passed nearby on their way home from work. The fact that the attack took place in the early evening, with many passers-by in the vicinity, has particularly horrified local residents.

The rapist was described as black, 6' tall, and about 30 years old. The attack was the third in the area within a few weeks - including a rape in nearby Ham, and an attack on a 61 year old woman in Petersham Woods. The rapists in every case are thought by police to be different men.

Richmond has always been a byword for respectability. One local,

Police search Richmond Green following the attack on a 25 year old woman by a black rapist - as crowds passed nearby bookshop owner Helena Caletta, said of the attacks "A lot of people with children round here are very worried indeed. We always considered it so safe. It would be a pity if it became a no-go area".

No area of London is safe any more from rapists and muggers. Street robberies are now commonplace in the smartest areas of the capital like Kensington and Chelsea. Watches are snatched from the wrists of motorists held up in traffic by practised teams of muggers.

Pedestrians walking in Oxford Street - London's premier shopping street - regularly see thieves carried bodily out of shops by police. Loud hailer warnings about gangs of street thieves are frequently given.

Jewish Peer Attacked And Robbed In Home

JEWISH PEER Lord Mishcon was attacked and robbed in his home recently by two black men. The two men ambushed Lord Mishcon's wife in the entrance to their luxury flat near London's Hyde Park.

Armed with knives, they bound and gagged the family's maid, and bruised and cut Lady Mishcon as they demanded the keys to the safe. Jewellery worth £1m. was stolen in the raid, including rings dragged from Lady Mishcon's fingers.

Lord Mishcon is the Princess of Wales' and Lord Archer's legal adviser. He also represented the late Robert Maxwell. He is a former Vice-President of the Board of Deputies of British Jews, and owns a house in Israel.

The Board of Deputies has consistently supported mass immigration into Britain, and denounced anyone who opposed the policy.

Jewish peer Lord Mishcon: attacked and robbed of £1m. in home

The organ of the Jewish community in Britain, the Jewish Chronicle, recently attacked plans to oppose the EC sponsored right of entry of 10 million European immigrants into Britain - as revealed in December's BN.

GOOD NEWS ON CRIME!

Despite massive increases in violent crime recently - with rape up 15% and mugging up 17% - the news is not all bad. The number of pedal cycles recorded as stolen fell by 35,000 in the year to last July.

Knifeman attempts to abduct 11 year old girl in Isleworth

A MAN wielding an eight inch knife tried to abduct an 11 year old girl as she walked her dog in Isleworth - not far from Richmond.

The girl was walking along a suburban street when the man, who was 6'1" tall, muscular, and black, began to follow her in a car. She called her 17 year old brother from a telephone box, but before he arrived the man threatened her with the knife and tried to force her into the car.

When the girl's brother arrived, after running a mile to the scene of the incident, he was injured as the attacker set on him with the knife. After a struggle the man, thought to be about 20 years old, was forced to run off after being punched.

The police later commended the girl's brother for his bravery.

● A 17 year old girl was abducted and raped in a similar terrifying attack in Kensington recently.

The girl was forced into a car by the black attacker, who held a six-inch bread knife to her throat. She was taken to an underground car park in London's notorious Bayswater area, and raped - again at knifepoint. She was said to be in severe shock after the attack, but described the rapist as about 5' 10" tall, 20-30 years old, and well built with a scar near his right eye.

The rapist had arranged the door locks of the car so that the tops had been removed, making it impossible for the girl to get out.

● A white paperboy was attacked by an Asian gang in Kingston, Surrey. The 17 year old was attacked at 9am. as he left a railway station in one of the country's most respectable areas outside London.

Nothing was taken, but the attackers screamed abuse. The police, reflecting the requirements of political correctness, denied any racial motive.

If a white gang had attacked an Asian in the same area, and in the same way, TV news would have covered the story as a 'race attack' the same evening. In the event, the story was only reported in a local paper and played down. Such is present Britain.

96% DEMAND STRONGER IMMIGRATION CONTROLS!

A SURVEY by the Manchester Evening News showed that 96% of people want stronger immigration controls.

The paper asked readers whether they thought Britain was seen as a soft touch by foreigners - with free housing, benefits, education and health care. Are hundreds of fraudsters conning Britain for every genuine refugee, and will many immigrants never even learn our language? Is the welfare state strained enough, without taking on people who have never paid a penny in tax in this country?

Only 4% were opposed to Britain's barriers to immigration being tightened.

Public demands will, as usual, be completely ignored by the Government, as they have been for the last forty years!

TO THE POINT

Britain's 2,000 Falkland Islanders have rejected a £1 million-a-head bribe from the Argentinian Government to renounce their British sovereignty. They would not even have to leave their homes but they refused to abandon their heritage and refused point blank the offer from Argentinian president Carlos Menem. If Britain offered all its immigrants a similar £1m. opportunity to get out the airports would not be able to handle the rush.

Black newspaper The Voice - November 8 1994

Pensioner of 73 fights off mugger with his stick

73 YEAR OLD pensioner Christopher Newton sent a black mugger fleeing when his friend, a widow of 74, was attacked on a Nottingham footpath. Dorothy Dawson was punched in the face and dragged along the path in a mugging attack.

Mrs. Dawson was floored as the attacker tried to wrench away her handbag, smashing her glasses.

The attacker pounced as the couple (pictured) stopped for a rest. Mr. Newton hit out with his stick, sending the thief, a man in his twenties, fleeing.

Mrs. Dawson was taken to hospital covered with bruises, bleeding, and suffering from shock.

She is now terrified to go out alone. "I don't feel safe - I'm frightened to death to go out" she says.

A BNP Government will know what to do with thieves who attack the elderly in the street. Criminals know perfectly well that, at present, they face no real punishment if caught. Under the pathetic liberal crime policies of the main parties it is open season on pensioners who simply wish to walk down the street.

ONE LAW FOR THEM?

Storm as Sikhs wielding swords lead 1,000 strong march through Bedford

A THOUSAND strong Sikh procession through Bedford in November has attracted a storm of criticism. The procession was led by Sikhs carrying three foot long swords (pictured) - to the disgust of local people.

The march was held to celebrate the birth of the founder of the Sikh religion, and was the first of its kind in Bedford.

The police said they were extremely pleased with the event. Police Sergeant Dave Bithell, who has a special interest in Eastern religions, co-ordinated the parade. He said that there was no difference between the Sikhs carrying swords and the Royal Anglian Regiment's traditional march through the town with fixed bayonets. The swords were merely 'religious'.

Fireworks, described as 'special' were also set off frightening local people with their size.

BN notes the comparison being made between our legitimate armed services, sworn to defend the country, and the Sikhs, who are apparently regarded as falling into the same category.

When the BNP wished to hold a march through Walsall, following the murder of a young Briton by blacks, the party was told that flag poles holding Union Jacks would not be allowed, since they might be considered weapons. Contrast that with permission for immigrant groups to openly carry swords in our streets!

BN recently revealed how a 14 year old Sikh schoolboy in Scotland had been allowed to carry a dagger to school, concealed beneath his clothes.

Local people from Bedford, who were frightened to be identified, described the march to BN as a 'disgrace', and said that they felt intimidated. Pensioners had been terrified by the fireworks.

A similar march was held some while ago in London's Southall, as reported in BN at the time.

Is there one law for them?

BN BRIEFING

WHAT IS EQUALITY?

We hear a lot about 'equality' these days, particularly from the Labour Party. But what is equality?

Cardiff North Labour Party have stepped in to help. The short list of candidates to fight the seat at the next general election will be women only. "We have always believed in equal opportunities and see a woman only shortlist as being a practical means to achieve this" said a spokesman for Labour.

Profound thinkers these Labour chap-persons. A scheme by feminists to get rid of men you say? Surely not! Hush your mouths.

TORIES, BANKS, AND EUROPE

The Conservative Party is deep in a financial mire. They owe nearly £20 million to the banks, and membership subscriptions and donations are falling.

Will the banks soon foreclose on the party and drive them into bankruptcy? Perhaps there is a clue in the Tory attitude to Europe. Against the wishes of most people in Britain the Tories are driving the country steadily deeper into a federal Europe. Who wants this process to continue? Why the banks, who would increase their profits!

BN believes that the Tories are safe from the bailiffs.

HONESTY AMONG THIEVES

Two men signed a petition in a Taunton shop demanding better policing in the area - then produced a knife and stole cash and cigarettes.

The police are investigating whether the robbers gave their real names - but do not think it likely. A BNP Government would soon make these dregs of society laugh on the other side of their faces.

Threatened with prosecution for saying Britain is Christian

A COUNCILLOR who said that Britain was a Christian country has been threatened with prosecution by the Commission for Racial Equality.

Michael White, a Conservative Councillor in Havering, made the statement in connection with his opposition to a council grant for purchasing copies of the Koran.

He then received a letter threatening him with prosecution under the Race Relations Act. The CRE said that he might have tried to influence councillors to vote against the grant 'on racial grounds'.

The CRE receives £15m. in public funds every year, and has told councils not to house local British people since it would be 'racist'.

The Essex Islamic Educational Trust applied for £1500 to buy the Koran, and has so far had £500.

Tory Councillors dismissed for criticising immigration

A LABOUR council in Essex illegally dismissed two Tory Councillors from all committees after they said they understood resentment at Bosnians being given housing in preference to local people. Bosnians should be sent back after a limited period they told a local newspaper.

The Councillors said they would go to the High Court to obtain their statutory rights to sit on council committees.

Unhappily statements of this sort from Tories have little credibility - and tend to be made before elections!

The actual policy of the Conservatives is unlimited mass immigration, behind a smoke screen of claims that immigration has either been halted, or is about to be halted.

The only party which genuinely opposes immigration is the BNP.

● Two London Tory Councils recently blocked an Xmas treat for pensioners - free rail trips around London. Tory Wandsworth and Westminster vetoed extending the existing concessionary fare scheme to include British Rail. Meanwhile London Boroughs lavish money on immigrants who have never paid a penny in tax - unlike our pensioners who have paid in all their lives and are now ignored.

NEW YEAR QUIZ

How Racist Are You?

 - b) Should be kept firmly in check
 - c) Are of no relevance to white people
2. Is discrimination by employers in Britain against black and ethnic minority people:
 - a) Much exaggerated
 - b) Right and proper
 - c) A very serious problem
3. The Rushdie affair shows:
 - a) Muslims in Britain have too much influence
 - b) Muslims need to be more accepting of British customs and law
 - c) There needs to be greater understanding of Muslim views
4. Ought there to be multicultural education in British schools?
 - a) Yes, and anti-racist too
 - b) Certainly not, when in Rome do what the Romans do
 - c) Only if the curriculum has time to fit it in
5. If your new boss were a member of an ethnic minority group, would you:
 - a) Be particularly supportive since he or she might be a victim of racism
 - b) Treat him or her the same as a white person
 - c) Wish you were working for a white person instead
6. How do welfare services treat black and ethnic minority people? They:
 - a) Are unhelpful and unfair
 - b) Bend over backwards to give them favourable treatment
 - c) Treat them much the same as they treat white people
7. How do you refer to people living in Britain of African or Caribbean background? As:
 - a) Coloured immigrants
 - b) Ethnic minorities
 - c) Black British
8. What's your view of refugees?
 - a) Obviously we've got to have strong controls
 - b) Britain's current policies are ungenerous and unfair
 - c) Most people wanting to settle in Britain are bogus or frauds, not genuine refugees
9. How do you see Asian families in Britain:
 - a) Much the same as all other families - some good, some bad
 - b) Repressive, male dominated and narrow minded
 - c) A model for other people to admire and imitate
10. Do you think that racial prejudice in Britain:
 - a) Is unacceptably high
 - b) Is only human nature
 - c) Will continue as long as there are too many immigrants
11. A close relation or friend wants to marry someone of a different ethnic group. Are you?
 - a) Anxious because the marriage probably won't work
 - b) Critical and opposed to it
 - c) By and large in favour
12. Which of these accurately summarises current scientific knowledge?
 - a) Genetically speaking the human species cannot be divided into so-called races
 - b) Races vary genetically in intelligence and athletic ability
 - c) There are three main races - Asiatic, Caucasian and Negroid
13. In the House of Commons
 - a) Changes are taking place naturally and cannot be forced
 - b) All parties should be taking steps to get more black and ethnic minority MPs selected as candidates for winning seats
 - c) Most white people can't be expected to vote for a black or ethnic minority candidate

BRITISH NATIONAL PARTY

ACTIVISTS' HANDBOOK

BRITISH NATIONAL PARTY ACTIVISTS' HANDBOOK. At long last this much awaited work is available. The handbook is a mine of information on the techniques of promoting the BNP, dealing in particular with the work of pioneering, building up and organising the local branch. Its various sections cover: (1) Starting with the right attitude; (2) Working alone; (3) The importance of leadership; (4) The branch meeting; (5) Literature sales; (6) Leafleting and recruitment; (7) Publicity; (8) Rudiments of branch organisation; (9) Major activities; (10) Fighting elections: basic approach; (11) Fighting elections: basic tasks; (12) The behaviour we expect; (13) People we can do without; (14) A way of life. An appendix at the end of the booklet covers basic party strategy, image-making and psychological factors in shaping public attitudes towards the BNP.

The Activists' Handbook is a 'must' for every local BNP leader and indeed for every activist who wishes to be effective in serving the party. £1.50 plus 36p p&p.

FOREIGN NEWS

HOW US LEGAL SYSTEM DISCRIMINATES AGAINST WHITE PEOPLE

WHY do some races do better in US examinations than others? If all races are equal then surely all should reach similar levels of achievement - not only in examinations but in every other area. If they do not then it must indicate that discrimination is occurring.

That is a summary of the policy on race of the United States government - which has spawned a massive industry designed to enforce quotas and legal discrimination against whites.

Despite all efforts equality still obstinately fails to emerge. The response to every failure is a further tightening of the screws. An army of inspectors from the Equal Employment Opportunities Commission plague employers.

In one celebrated case the EEOC advertised for people who might have applied for a job at a local firm which fell foul of the regulations - if they had even known about it! All were granted damages, even though some were in prison at the time!

QUOTAS

Every firm with over 15 employees is required to take on staff by race in the same proportions as the local population. Inability to do the job is no excuse.

The US 'quota' worker has become a workplace joke. Big companies, who cannot do without employee tests, simply bump up the marks of blacks to ensure compliance. All is sweetness and light on the surface, with seething rage and resentment just underneath. In 1971 the US Supreme Court ruled that a power company could not require any qualifications at all when hiring staff, since it placed blacks at a disadvantage.

The New York Police have attempted for the last ten years to devise a sergeant's exam which would give similar results for both blacks and whites. Differences in performance were blamed on 'cultural bias'. To suggest that staff have to operate in the actual culture of the US, not in some other country, and that culture is relevant is, of course, taboo.

POOR WHITES

In US universities entrance is granted on a quota basis. The results of entry tests indicate a difference between blacks and whites similar to the gap between an A and a B at A-Level in Britain. 'Affirmative action' takes care of the problem. Poor whites are often excluded in favour of prosperous middle class blacks. Different exam marking sheets are used for different races in a process called 'race norming'. The result is that blacks leave universities with a devalued qualification, since employers are well aware of what occurs in the assessment process.

Why do young US blacks underachieve when compared with whites?

Government discrimination inspectors now grant special rights to women, blacks, Hispanics, Asians, and now the obese and the smelly. Almost the only people excluded are white men.

INTELLIGENCE

The whole monstrous edifice depends on a belief that all races are the same. Hence the furore recently when Charles Murray published a book called The Bell Curve. He says that there is a substantial and measurable difference between black and white IQs, and, even worse, that most of the difference is genetic.

The liberal establishment have naturally pilloried Murray with the usual 'Nazi' accusations. In Britain Professor Hans Eysenck received the same treatment from the extreme left when he made the same claim some years ago. He was physically assaulted at one university meeting.

COWARDICE

Why have US whites put up with it for so long? For the same reason as white people in Britain endure being constantly demeaned - constant media guilt making propaganda, and the sheer cowardice which has overtaken so many whites in recent years.

In the United States events like the recent Republican election victory indicate that change is on the way. The worm is turning at last with demands for change. Where the US public mood leads Britain is often not far behind.

BRITISH NATIONALIST NEEDS YOUR HELP!

BRITISH NATIONALIST is pleased to announce that sales are at record levels, thanks largely to increasing bulk orders by local units.

The massive influx of new members since the election of Derek Beackon last September has also helped boost circulation, thanks to the greatly increased number of subscriptions by individual members and supporters of the BNP.

One thing which readers constantly request is more news about BNP activities up and down the country. Despite local party activity being at its highest level since the formation of the BNP, some units are still not letting us know of their good work! Units should send us regular reports, together with any photos and press cuttings.

Readers perform an invaluable service by sending us press cuttings from local papers, and other items, regarding issues often suppressed in the national press. We have as a result, for example, been able to expose corrupt Labour councillors. Items of local news are often of great importance in building up a national picture of what is happening. Please do not mark press cuttings, excepting the date and name of newspaper (if not shown) since this may prevent reproduction in BN.

Please help us by keeping those news items rolling in!

Sir: Having read several issues of your very informative British Nationalist, I feel compelled to write to you about the hard facts of what is happening in South Africa. There appears to be a common belief worldwide that SA is now free, full of racial harmony, and that the government is tackling the 50% unemployment, crime, and millions of homeless. Crime has multiplied by ten since Mandela's release from prison, and reverse racism is the order of the day with blacks getting jobs regardless of skill. 85% of criminals are black and the ANC would lose support if it tackled crime. Poverty is blamed, but the blacks who have robbed and stabbed me twice on trains did not seem too poor to me! It seems there is no light at the end of the tunnel. There is still hope for Britain. Stick to what you believe in resolutely BNP, and never give up!

GROWING SUPPORT FOR BNP IN HOUNSLOW

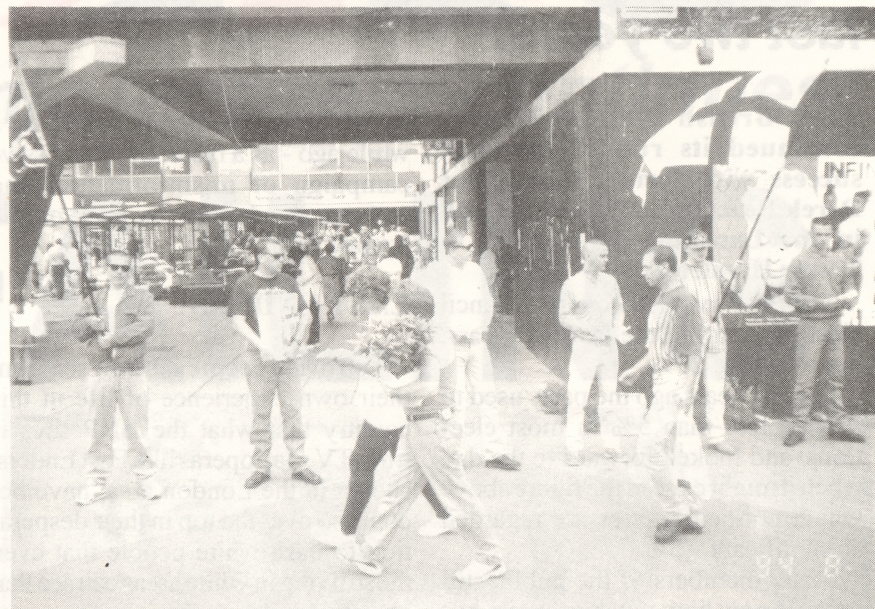

Strong response to paper sales in Feltham

HOUNSLOW party members have staged very successful sales of BN in the London Borough of Hounslow.

Large numbers of papers have regularly been sold and thousands of leaflets distributed. Feltham has seen the most gratifying response from the public. Public opinion is clearly disgusted with Labour Hounslow's policy of putting immigrants first in jobs, housing, and welfare - while totally neglecting local British people.

A measure of the party's support may be gained from the squeals of complaint by left-wing rentamobs in the local newspapers.

Labour claimed recently that the BNP had no chance of gaining any support in the Borough. How pleasing to prove them wrong yet again!

A group of BNP members selling British Nationalist and Spearhead in Hounslow. Public opinion has been outraged by a spate of appalling street attacks in the area, including the rape of a young woman on Richmond Green, and the attempted abduction of an 11 year old girl in Isleworth. (Report P.4)

Illegal poll interference: BNP demands action by Police

The BNP has called on the Police to take action against criminal interference with elections by the Trotskyite Anti-Nazi League.

BNP branches and members throughout the country should be aware that it is a criminal offence for any group to leaflet or poster during elections if they are not standing a candidate. The Representation of People Act bars campaigning by groups not directly party to an election - to ensure fairness, and to prevent evasion of the election expenses rules.

The law is now deliberately broken by the extreme-left wherever the BNP stands a candidate - as in the recent Lansbury by-election.

The BNP has made a formal complaint to the Metropolitan Police about the ANL's criminal activities in Lansbury.

All branches, throughout the country, should complain to the police whenever this type of activity occurs in their areas.

The relevant law is contained in S.75 of the Representation of the People Act, and in a test case which was heard by the House of Lords - DPP v Luft 1976. The circumstances in that case were identical to those in current elections.

Coventry & Warks BNP are rapidly expanding. They now have their own PO Box No. which, for the moment, is being shared with West Herts. The branch is shown holding one of its increasingly well supported activities - the campaign against the opening of a Sex Offenders Centre in the area. Following sustained campaigning by the BNP the plan to open the centre was abandoned - to a chorus of public acclaim!

BNP man on trumped up charge acquitted

A BNP member who was dragged through the courts on a trumped up charge has been acquitted.

Mark Bringlow of Hayes was accused of assaulting an Asian Trotskyite, Sundeep Singh Sangheera, who claimed he was attacked in the street.

The evidence against Mr. Bringlow? None of the witnesses to the claimed attack could identify him - but charges were still brought - for the offense of being a member of the BNP!

The insidious practice of arresting any local BNP member, without evidence, when a member of the extreme left makes a complaint to the police, has become all too common recently.

This ploy by the state to intimidate the perfectly lawful British National Party will not be allowed to succeed.

SUBS DUE!

All BNP members are reminded that subscriptions for 1995 are due on January 1 1995.

Those who joined after October 1 1994 are exempted from membership renewal until 1996.

Prompt payment would be appreciated by the party, which has constant demands on its purse in the struggle for a future for Britain.

Legal Fund: target now £16,000

The British National Party has recently been advised by the solicitors acting for it in the case against Bexley Borough Council that expenses are now likely to run to as much as £16,000 - instead of the lesser figure originally estimated. This means that the target figure for our Legal Fund must again be raised.

Last month, due to the generosity of one supporter, who wishes to remain anonymous, we received a magnificent single contribution to the fund of £10,000! This and other contributions received during the month amount to a total of £10,608.50. It brings the total raised so far to £11,734.00 - leaving £4,266.00 still to be raised.

The money must be raised to contest an action against Bexley Borough Council over the use of the party's shop premises in Welling. The Council is attempting to prevent the current use of the shop on the grounds that it contravenes planning regulations.

Contributions should be marked 'BNP Legal Fund' and sent to PO Box 117, Welling, Kent DA16 3DW.

BRITISH NATIONAL PARTY'S ELECTORAL SUCCESS CONTINUES

Results in London elections now average 20% for last two years:

THE British National Party continued its run of electoral success with former Councillor Derek Beackon's 20% of the poll in the Lansbury by-election in Tower Hamlets.

The BNP's vote in London Council elections, during the last two years, has averaged 20%.

Several years ago the party used to receive less than 5% in most elections, and looked forward to the day when it might exceed the figure above which political parties are regarded as significant - 5%.

Many members of the public still do not know how much progress has been made by the BNP in electoral terms recently. The media are certainly not going to tell them!

MEDIA SMEARS

No nationalist group in Britain has ever had such sustained electoral support. The task for the party is to build on its growing public acceptability.

Everyone who has canvassed regularly for the BNP over the last year or two can testify to the changed public mood. Very few people greet party members with the suspicion or hostility which was sometimes the case a while ago - as a result of the massive campaign of misinformation and smears conducted by the media against the BNP.

EAST ENDERS

Too many people can now see from their own experience of life in this country that what the BNP says is true. TV soap operas like East Enders, shown in the London area, have become so over the top in their desperation to bash white people that even those living in white areas can see that something phoney is going on.

East Enders, predictably, ran a story in the run up to the Lansbury election in which all white people were made out to be cowardly and vicious, while everyone else was almost saintly!

HIGH VOTES

Since the BNP cannot rely on the media to put over its case it must do so by talking directly to the people - by canvassing, leafletting, and so on. The very high votes the party is now getting are a testimony to the effectiveness of this approach.

The BNP's electoral success began with Barry Osborne's path breaking 20% in Millwall at the end of 1992.

Since then the party has had Derek Beackon elected as a Councillor in Millwall in September of 1993 with 34%. Derek lost his seat in the following May election, but only after increasing his vote by nearly 600! The party also won 33% in one ward in Newham.

The Millwall results cannot be compared with that in Lansbury. The BNP has not fought an election there since 1987, when it won a measly 2%. The voters in Lansbury were, to all intents and purposes, new to the BNP, and only had a few weeks to hear what we have to say.

ESTABLISHED

It is clear from the reaction by the public to the Lansbury result that they regard it as impressive.

Many people believed what they were told by the media after last May's elections. The BNP was said to be finished electorally - despite its huge votes! It is now clear that this was a lie. The party is, in fact, becoming increasingly established.

Wet, cold, and wintry! But Derek Beackon and a team of leafletters carry on the good work somewhere in East London. The BNP's electoral success, unprecedented in the history of British Nationalism, is built on patient hard work, bringing a message of hope to voters. Beleaguered whites in Britain now have to endure 'white bashing' propaganda every time they open a newspaper or turn on a TV. Only the BNP is prepared to say the things everyone knows to be true about the disastrous multi-racial experiment which is being imposed on countries all over the western world.

British Nationalist wishes all its readers a Happy New Year and thanks them for their support. We thank all those who have sent in press cuttings and other material from all over the world during the last year.

How the media works for Britain! Normal people expressing normal patriotic opinions become 'Neo-Nazis' 'targeting' (note the subtle hint of guns there) young people. Fortunately more and more people are seeing through the codswallop. Well done Crewe members for this front page coverage in the Crewe paper!

Neo-Nazis target Gresty Road fans

AN EXTREME right wing group targeting Crewe Alex fans is playing on violence to support its hard-line policies, anti-racism campaigners say. The British National Party says football supporters are among those singled out in the town because the young, unemployed are more likely to be swayed by its promises of a better Britain. But Searchlight, a magazine that monitors extreme right wing groups, says the BNP has headhunted soccer fans to take advantage of the potential for violence already on the terraces. The BNP claims interest in Crewe was originally sparked following the killing of white South Cheshire student Catherine Aitken by

by MARIA GEARING

black American, Curtis Howard.

And they say since the killing of 24-year-old Catherine in 1991 support for their aims has snowballed.

National spokesman for the BNP, Michael Newland, said: 'Young people have no jobs. The young working class feel like they are being pushed out of society and are naturally fed up.'

'This ground-swell of discontent includes many football fans and these are the people most likely to be interested in joining us.'

Anti-racism campaigners are urging people, especially football fans, who are offered BNP leaflets to report the group's activities.

Tony Robson, a researcher for Searchlight, said: 'If any Crewe Alex supporters are offered racially inflammatory material, which is now an offence under the new Criminal Justice Act, they should inform the football intelligence unit at Scotland Yard.'

'There is a potential for violence among football fans which is why the BNP want to recruit them. The National Front was very active on the terraces.'

'The BNP look to the working class's allegiance to their own soccer club and try to take it a stage further by inspiring a commitment to their own ideas.'

'It is the hard-core hooligans they really want to recruit.'

What we stand for

- The establishment of a government of national unity that will put an end to nationally divisive party warfare; the return of leadership and statesmanship to British affairs.
- An end to immigration and a start to repatriation.
- British withdrawal from the European Community: trade with Europe where it suits us but no political ties.
- The disbanding of the multi-racial Commonwealth and its replacement by a new Commonwealth of self-governing white states.
- British ownership and control of British industry and resources.
- Protection of British industry by the selective exclusion of foreign manufactured goods from the British market.
- An end to the financial swindle that causes inflation and slump, and its replacement by a sane and fair financial system that will give the people the purchasing power to buy the goods they produce.
- The subordination of the power of the City to the power of Government, and the harnessing of the City to the needs of British industry.
- The regeneration of British farming, with the object of achieving the maximum self-sufficiency in food; also the restoration of the fishing industry by protection of our traditional fishing grounds.
- A healthy environment for a healthy people -- the protection of our countryside and an end to the architectural disfigurement of our towns and cities.
- Tougher treatment of criminals, including the return of the death penalty.
- A return to traditional methods of education, with stronger discipline in the classroom and the sacking of 'trendy' teachers.
- An alternative defence strategy: withdrawal from NATO; closure of all foreign military and air bases in Britain; British withdrawal from the war in former Yugoslavia, where no British interest is at stake; the bringing home of British forces from Germany; the strengthening of Britain's defences and a position of armed neutrality.
- An end to overseas aid and the allocation of the money saved to the financing of repatriation and greater help for the needy at home.
- The crushing of the IRA, and the termination of the Anglo-Irish agreement and firm support for the loyalist majority in Northern Ireland.
- Repeal of the laws permitting homosexuality and abortion (except where the latter is the result of rape or necessary on medical grounds), the wiping out of AIDS and a return to healthy moral values aimed at strengthening the family and community.
